DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-3, 7-32 and 36-48 are presented for examination.
2. The text of those sections of Title 35, USC code not included in this action can be found in the prior Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC 102

3. Claims 1-3, 7-32 and 36-48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Parulski [U.S. PGPub 20050213146].
4. As to claims 1-3 and 7-9, Parulski teaches the invention as claimed including: a method for contents data processing service, comprising the steps of:
transferring contents data from a terminal of an orderer to a processing apparatus of an order receiver via a communication line, which can be in the Internet [Abstract; 42, Fig.1]; processing said transferred contents data in said processing apparatus of the order receiver; and transferring processed contents data from said processing apparatus of the order receiver to said terminal of the orderer via said communication line or storing and managing said processed contents data in a storage area of a data managing unit [20, Fig.3] that is accessible from at least one of said terminal of the orderer and a terminal of a third party via said communication line, or both of said transferring of said processed contents data and said storing and managing of said processed contents data [e.g., paragraph 36: "Alternatively, the user's image may be transferred via the ISP 30 and the channel 36 to the Internet Server 42 and processed. The "after processing" image can then be transferred from the Internet Server 42 to the user's computer 10 for viewing on the display monitor 14], wherein said contents data is digital image data, said processing performed in said processing apparatus of the order receiver is image processing, and said processed contents data is digital image data that has been subjected to image processing; wherein said image processing is high definition image processing performed by the order receiver; and wherein only said processing apparatus of the order receiver has a configuration performing said high definition image processing on said contents data [e.g., paragraphs 12-15 and 36; note that red-eye removal is a high definition processing], wherein said digital image data is still image data; and wherein said processing apparatus of the order receiver is an image processing apparatus [42, Fig.1] of a photo print laboratory [40, Fig. 1; i.e., the product customization center itself is a laboratory able to perform image processing etc.]

Art Unit: 2154

5. As to claim 11, since the features of this claim can also be found in claims 1, 4 and 8, it is rejected for the same reasons set forth in the rejection of claims 1, 4 and 8 above.

6. As to claim 13, Parulski further teaches that said edit processing information includes at least one of character composition processing, certificate photograph processing, calendar processing, album processing, post card processing, business card processing, ticket processing, menu processing, template composition processing, mini-frame processing, card print processing and free trimming processing [e.g., paragraphs 10-11 and 80].

7. As to claim 21, Parulski further teaches that said processing apparatus of the order receiver manages said orderer by an URL or an ID card [e.g., paragraph 27].

8. As to claim 22, Parulski further teaches determining a fee for a processing service according to used processing items and a data amount of said contents data and determines a fee for storing said processed contents data according to a period using a server for storing and managing said processed contents data and an area of use of the server, and said order receiver is billed these fees added to a fee for using said communication line from a connection service company of said communication line [e.g., paragraphs 136 and 146].

Art Unit: 2154

9. As to claims 10, 12, 14-20, 23-32 and 36-48, since the features of these claims can also be found in claims 1, 3, 7-9, 11, 13 and 21-22, they are rejected for the same reasons set forth in the rejection of claims 1, 3, 7-9, 11, 13 and 21-22 above.

10. Applicant's arguments filed on 8/2/2007 for claims 1-3, 7-32 and 36-48 have been fully considered but they are not deemed to be persuasive.

11. Applicant argues in the remarks that: Parulski does not teach that the image processing is performed on an apparatus in a photo print laboratory.

The examiner respectfully disagrees. It is noted that the term "photo print laboratory" is not found in Applicant's specification. Thus the term has been broadly interpreted as a laboratory set up for customer service. As depicted in Fig. 1 and paragraph 36 of Parulski, the image processing apparatus and the "photo print laboratory" are being mapped to the Internet server (42, Fig.1) and the "product customization center" (40, Fig.1), respectively. That is, although the names are different, they are functionally the same.

For at least the above reasons, it is submitted that the prior art of Parulski reads on the claims.

12. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 2154

13. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
